We study the dependence of the maximum of the diffusion coefficient of the particles on the power of the periodic potential, including both the one-dimensional and two- or three-dimensional cases. Our previous work [T. Hiramoto and Y. Nakayama, J. Phys. A: Math. Gen. 24, pp. 4791-4796 (1991)] shows that the power of the potential is related to the number of maxima of the diffusion coefficient in the one-dimensional case, where the maximum value is proportional to the inverse of the potential. This result was obtained numerically for the two- and three-dimensional cases. Here we show that the diffusion coefficient is proportional to the inverse of the potential in all dimensions when the potential is smooth, and we prove that the power law is the same as that obtained in our previous work for a one-dimensional case.
