This is the first Pro Evolution Soccer since 2007, since Konami split off their football series from their mainstream PES franchise. Instead, the football series became their own series, Konami Pro-Active Soccer, with the Pro Evolution Soccer 2009 series being made to celebrate PES 2009. Konami stated that PES 2009 was to be a celebration of PES, and not a new series. PES 2009 is the flagship of the Pro Evolution Soccer 2009 series. It was released on 16 October 2009 on PlayStation 3, Xbox 360, Microsoft Windows and Nintendo DS. Gameplay The focus of this game is to see which team will win the match and will have a chance to reach the goal of winning the match, which is called the "top score". The new feature in PES 2009 is that the players have improved, with improved animations, more accurate passes and more control of the ball. PES 2009 offers a number of new modes: Manager Mode: Manager mode allows the user to control a single team. Dynamics: Dynamic is a brand new type of game play. The game is a continuous match that is not end-to-end. At any moment, both teams can have an injury, and they can receive the injured player on the bench. Local multiplayer: Up to four people can play together on the same team, with both local and online play. Up to 10 people can play as a single team online. On 17 November 2009, Konami announced that Pro Evolution Soccer 2010 would not have the same improvements, stating: "PES 2010 is the development system and the base of the Pro Evolution Soccer series, not the engine." There are new signature faces, including team mascots and popular player faces, with each team being given an individual uniform theme and a new player model. New kits are also available, including the new Adidas (Walton) 2010 kits, although PES 2009 features its official 2008–09 Nike (Adidas) kits, which are inspired by Nike's FIFPro World 2010 kits. The game has a new feature called "Creator", which allows the user to create their own levels and customize them. There are three things to choose: A stadium: the user can choose between a real stadium or a custom stadium. The custom stadiums are made with 3D models and can be customized for the user to create their own unique stadium. A referee: the user can choose between a real referee or one of the custom referees.
