I can get birthdays and Christmas cards, presents and cards off my nana and grandad. Even my mum has cut me off because I asked her for a boys birthday present for my brother. I'm just really sad because I'd love to be able to give them something I could honestly say that they'd love and enjoy! Like I said I have a fantastic grandad who spoils me rotten, but if I asked him for a gift for my brother he'd probably go all coy and say "he'll love what I get him". If it was a girl cousin I'd be less of a tight wad and spend more but for some reason I just have to ask my grandad for a present for my brother and he can't be bothered to get him anything. I've even tried asking my mum for some.Q: Update JSON key value using jq I have the below example JSON { "scope": "ABC", "email": "Email", "user_id": 12345, "password": "test", "user": { "first_name": "xxx", "last_name": "yyy" }, "token": "xyz", "token_expires_in": "120" } I want to update the values in user.first_name and user.last_name Is it possible using jq. I am using: sudo update-pass -h sudo update-pass --help A: Try the following: echo "{ \"scope\": \"ABC\", \"email\": \"Email\", \"user_id\": 12345, \"password\": \"test\", \"user\": { \"first_name\": \"xxx\", \"last_name\": \"yyy\" }, \"token\": \"xyz\", \"token_expires_in\": \"120\" }" | jq -
