Autowin Components Suite is a collection of seven components aimed at web developers, targeted on the creation of rich and interactive web applications. The components are easy to install and configure, and are fully compatible with Windows Vista and 2008. Moreover, Autowin Components Suite provides its users with a 32-bit version and a 64-bit version of every component, thus making its functionality available to all supported versions of the operating system. In addition, users can activate various debugging options provided with some of the components, thus allowing troubleshooting and debugging in a very convenient way. Finally, the components are designed to be easily portable, thus supporting all versions of Windows starting with Windows 2000. Autowin Components Suite Description: Acalba is a utility designed to help users with the creation of their own logos. The component is fully free, but requires Internet connection to work properly. Also, users need to register on the company's site to create a custom logo, adding that logos can be sold or transferred among users after they have been created. Acalba allows users to choose between two different logos among the 11 included in the component: one for Microsoft Office and one for the web design. However, once a logo has been created, it can be saved as a PNG image file, as well as exported to a PDF or TIFF file for further processing on any other computer. For all the features provided by Acalba, it is strongly recommended that users have an understanding of the HTML code and the CSS language. It is also advisable to use Internet Explorer 9 or a similar browser. Acalba Description: Ace Performer is a media player, with special features aimed at gamers and those who enjoy playing multimedia files. The component has been built using the WMP ActiveX technology, thus allowing designers to create and edit the design of the player using, for instance, a visual designer. In addition, Ace Performer allows users to manage and edit the look, feel and behavior of the player. This means, for instance, that users can choose among different skins to create their own personalized player, as well as modify the 'Background' and the 'Shadow' of the player. Also, users can change the 'Focus' and the 'Grow' properties of the player. Furthermore, Ace Performer can be used to play files on the local machine, as well as files on a remote server, thus acting as a server-side component for web-based Neuromind 3D is a neuroanatomy, neurodevelopment, and neuroanatomy technology and educational tool which aids students and physicians in visualizing the structure of the human brain. Included features of Neuromind 3D include online search for Anatomical Atlas, MRI Scan tool to overlay three-dimensional images of the human brain on brain MRIs (e.g. MRI tagged by magnetic resonance spectroscopy, MRS, and positron emission tomography, PET), simulated MRI, online 3D MRI animations, full-color 3D cerebral maps, integrated neurological symptom page, and a series of free learning resources including homework exercises, web pages, a CAD drawing, instructional films, interactive three-dimensional models, and interactive sound effects. Neuromind 3D's free learning resources are available for free to education institutions, and all proceeds from the sales of Neuromind 3D products are donated to research on brain disorders, enabling school districts to purchase high-quality, state-of-the-art educational technologies. Neuromind 3D is designed to serve a wider audience, from elementary school students and physicians to researchers and students in university settings. Neuromind 3D is based on a patented, fully interactive platform that employs a "virtual anatomy table" concept. Students interact with the model using desk-top fiducial markers that can be tracked easily by all software applications and hardware. Neuromind 3D allows the user to navigate the model in any direction and zoom in or out at any time. Patents on Neuromind 3D cover the design, development, and use of the system, as well as the creation of an anatomical atlas. The atlas has been approved for teaching in the United States, Canada, Australia, and New Zealand. Neuromind 3D is the end result of years of research from Harvard Medical School and MIT into the development of a neuroanatomy education and research platform. The creator of Neuromind 3D, Professor Youn-Sik Kim, has been the Harvard Medical School Chair of Neuroanatomy Education for the last fifteen years. Over 200 researchers, teachers and students worldwide use Neuromind 3D as a teaching and learning platform.
