What's New in the?

Impressive is an application that displays presentation slides in a user interface that looks like a photo slide album. The difference is that the slideshow is a continuous timeline, which means that slides are displayed in sequence. Impressive is not a word processor like LibreOffice Impress, nor a slide show application like LibreOffice Impressor. It is a presentation package that looks like a photo slide show. Impressor and LibreOffice Impress are based on open standards, while Impressive is based on ApachePDF reference implementation. Impressor is an open source project that has a promise to be extended by an open source community. You can see more details about it in the homepage of the project. What's New in version 0.10.4.0: Impressive 0.10.4.0 comes with a brand new version of menubar and toolbars. You can choose from a wide variety of menu styles, toolbars and tool buttons. You can also configure them to be floating or non-floating. Toolbars are now grouped, so that you can just select one of them without selecting all others. Auto Up and Down button of the presentation mode has been improved. If the previous slide is still the first slide, now the auto up and down buttons are active. Timeline was extended to support PNG backgrounds for more customization. Color scheme options have been improved in timeline. Now you can set the color scheme of the timeline in full color, in monochrome and with a gradient. Impressive is completely ported to Windows. There are no more bugs and issues with the MacOS X version. What's New in version 0.10.3.0: New features for Impressive 0.10.3.0: Impressive 0.10.3.0 comes with some improvements on the following two new features: Timeline Improvements Timeline improvements of Impressive 0.10.3.0: Timeline is now full color, allowing you to have more customization options on it, like making your own backgrounds or choosing the color scheme. Timeline now supports animated slides with transparency, Preview of the presentation is now shown in fullscreen and not as a slide show.
