As you can see the dash 3 times and 3 rectangles. I am not sure if this is a bug or I am missing a code to get rid of it. Any help is highly appreciated. Thank you A: Declaring explicit width and height is the cause for this. I am working on the same website and have the same issue. Just add display: block; to the element and it will work fine. For reference, I am using this theme: A: Try using : .yourClass{ width: 100%; height: 100%; overflow: visible; } Why Wellness Budgets Matter in the Practice of School Health Nursing. In addition to meeting the individual and societal wellness needs of students, school nurses play a critical role in helping to create a healthy learning environment for all students by helping to establish school wellness policies and programs. An important component of this wellness plan is the school wellness budget. We present one school district's innovative concept of wellness budgeting. Our approach relies on targeted wellness resources, wellness champions and wellness ambassadors, and other practical strategies to support wellness. The experience of suffering in patients with advanced cancer: psychosocial oncology perspectives. In this qualitative study, we wanted to gain deeper understanding of the experience of suffering in patients with advanced cancer. Research questions of the study were as follows: What is the experience of suffering in patients with advanced cancer? What are the patient, family and professional perspective of the experience of suffering? We interviewed 20 patients with advanced cancer and conducted 10 focus group interviews. Content analysis was used to explore experiences of suffering and coping in patients with advanced cancer. The interviewed patients thought that most factors, such as the experience of uncertainty and the confrontation with hopelessness, were related to the experience of suffering. They also reported lack of understanding of the complexities of the disease as a factor that was related to their experience of suffering. The patients also expressed a need for more information about cancer and to increase the understanding of the patients' role in the therapy process. The results show the burden of living with advanced cancer. Support and information is important to lessen the

What is the best method for me to download and edit a video/mp4 file so that the video it's not ruined? If I upload it onto Vimeo it messes up the display so bad on the Vimeo player. If it's a "free" site, I don't like to upload into it. I think the website will eventually no longer let me upload videos, or be "free" and not pay for the hosting space, etc. I don't want to purchase an account, because I won't be able to upload good videos. I need a separate place/method for you to download my videos and/or download them onto a computer and edit them. I will be using Windows 10. I have tried VLC, but it does not include a recorder to "mute" the audio so that the video comes into focus better. I do not want to encode it over again. I tried WinEdt and it seems like a trial version, but the update on the software is extremely slow. I need an editor that can download videos from Vimeo or from you tube from my laptop and edit them. I am looking for a free one, or a website that I can "rent" one of their services, but I will be satisfied with an editor that allows me to "download" and "edit" a video that I already have as an.MP4 file that is already encoded. I want to be able to upload the.MP4 or.MPG to my server and then download it with my computer for editing. I want to be able to download and edit the video on my hard drive on my PC laptop, edit the video, upload the file, and then download a copy onto my server or to any website. I cannot encode the video over again. Please let me know any/all suggestions that you have, and point me to the right directions that I should read or check for my needs.
