Microsoft 2.4GHz Transceiver V7.0 Driver.Q: Issue with NSKeyedArchiver I have a problem with NSKeyedArchiver - I don't understand what is the problem. I need to add values to an array of objects. But something goes wrong when I want to add an object to the array of objects. The values that I want to add are printed out to the console, but when the file is generated, the object that was added stays nil. I have tried to add a different method to add objects to the array, and it worked. But now I don't know why. Can someone point out what is wrong with the first approach?
