What are the common mistakes newbie game developers make? I'd like to know. I am in no way a "newbie" programmer, but I just don't seem to get game engines very easy. Many places say this is a common error. I've tried to go through a video tutorial on a site called Game Craft, and it never goes through without screwing up some part. What are some of the common mistakes that people make when making games? Edit: Just thought I'd mention, I have to edit a game file every so often. One of the most common mistakes is trying to get everything working in the first go. It is common to get that perfect first load in that's going to make for some really exciting action but that doesn't mean that you're going to be able to maintain it in the long run. There are a number of pitfalls with game development, with a few of the most common being: 1) Getting hung up on resolution, when what really matters is frame rate. 2) Getting hung up on the actual mechanics of the game, when what really matters is what the story is telling you. 3) Thinking "common" is the only rule that applies. One of the most common mistakes is not programming the majority of the game as first time. This happens when you start learning a new language/framework/IDE and then you try to apply it to your game the first time. So you will say "I will just run through the tutorial, because it is simple and then I will apply that to my own game". Do not do this, you will end up losing a lot of time debugging some simple errors and then you will not know how to solve the problem in your own game. I recommend that before you go through a tutorial, read the documentation and figure out how you are supposed to solve your problem. java-gaming.org is not responsible for the content posted by its members, including references to external websites, and other references that may or may not have a relation with our primarily gaming and game production oriented community. inquiries and complaints can be sent via email to the info-account of the company managing the website of java-gaming.org

235 So.2d 694 (1970) The TOUCHSTONE COMPANY OF TALLAHASSEE, INC., Appellant, v. Percy H. WOODS and Harriet B. Woods, his wife, Appellees. No. 70-473. District Court of Appeal of Florida, Fourth District. August 31, 1970. R.J. Morse, of Morse, Morse & Morse, and David M. Drewry, Fort Lauderdale, for appellant. Sebring & Shoob, Fort Lauderdale, for appellees. REED, Judge. We hold the trial judge erred in directing a verdict in favor of the defendant as to the plaintiff's claim for the balance due on the purchase price of real estate. The appellee's principal point on appeal is that there was sufficient evidence on behalf of the plaintiff in his sworn answer and amended complaint to overcome the motion for directed verdict. The appellee further argues that the admission of evidence which directly contradicts the sworn allegations of the complaint is reversible error. The appellant takes the position that the appellee had made no presentation of any evidence on behalf of the plaintiff and for that reason directed a verdict should have been rendered in its favor as a matter of law. It is apparent from our examination of the record that the appellee's testimony on the motion for directed verdict was sufficient and the appellant's position is without merit. The court, however, erred in admitting over objection testimony of the appellant's witness Haddad that he had arrived with $250,000.00 in cash less the 6% discount which is all of the money he had at the time of the closing. The burden of proof was on the plaintiff as defendant to show he was not indebted to the plaintiff by reason of the payments made to the defendant. The plaintiff's witness, Wood, testified he had no knowledge as to whether or not the plaintiff had paid the defendant the 6% discount, but that he had told Haddad to make the payment to the appellant. Wood's testimony was clear that the appellant was charged with a duty to protect the appellee as to the money which would go to the defendant. While it is true that defendant admits in the answer that he received $12,000.00 "cash" as payment for the lot in question, he was not charged with knowledge of any duty he was to *695 perform in regard to the money he received or of
