Let me download this file, you need to sit tight for 2 or 3 mins. It usually takes me 15-20 secs (sometimes up to 90) to download the video from YouTube, its a great video, but downloading the full file it takes me as much as 40-50 mins. the only way to avoid this problem would be to download the full file, which takes ages to download, and use that one instead. Download the download button (I just downloaded it and it also doesnt download). Its a good video, but it would be a lot better if its possible to download the download button directly after the video is finished downloading. On your computer, go to control panel, uninstall programs, select each program to uninstall, click on the uninstall button, go back to control panel, free space. I have downloaded videos to my phone, with their names and their own path. When I disconnect the phone from the computer, it only lets me access the download folder from the application. It only allows me to download the videos when I select them from there. They are not in the phone as a selection, they are just in that folder. In other words,
