How To Turn Off Suggested Posts On Instagram & Remove Instagram Posts From The Feed

One downside to scrolling through your Instagram feed is the occasional sponsored post. Though these posts allow some of your favourite brands to reach a wider audience through what may essentially be paid advertising, many users find them distracting or even offensive. Fortunately, Instagram allows us to turn this post off, freeing up your natural feed so you'll only see posts from people you have chosen to follow.

What is a suggestion?

If you're someone who scrolls through their Instagram feed and sees posts suggested by the algorithm, you may wonder how to turn off suggested posts on Instagram. While you can only partially get rid of recommended content, there are ways to reduce the amount you see.

One way to limit the amount of suggested content you see is to interact with the posts from people you already follow. Liking, commenting, and sharing posts will train the algorithm to show you more content from accounts that you're interested in. You can also unfollow accounts that consistently appear in your suggestions.

Another way to reduce unwanted suggestions is to turn on post notifications for accounts you want to see every time they post. That way, even if their content doesn't show up in your feed organically, you'll still get a notification whenever they have something new.

Finally, if you want to minimize the suggested content in your feed, you can try using a different social media platform altogether. There are plenty of other options, so find one that works better for you and your interests.

Why does Instagram have this feature?

There are a few reasons why Instagram has this feature:

It helps keep the app fresh and exciting for users by showing them new content they may have yet to see.

It promotes discovery by surfacing content from accounts that users might need to follow.

So there you have it! Those are a few reasons why Instagram has the Suggested Posts feature. What do you think about it? Let us know in the comments below!

When does the suggestion show up on your Instagram feed?

The suggestion appears on your Instagram feed when you first open the app. If you're not interested in following a suggested user, tap the "x" next to their name.

Some simple ways to turn off suggested posts on Instagram?

Like most people, you probably scroll through your Instagram feed and see many suggested posts. While some of these may be interesting, others can be downright annoying. If you want to get rid of how to turn off suggested posts on Instagram feeds, here's a simple way to do it. Here's how:

Open the Instagram app and go to your profile page.

The three dots should be tapped in the top right corner of the screen.

Select "Settings" from the menu that appears.

Scroll down and tap on "Account."

Under "Privacy and Security," tap on "Content Filters."

The "Hide Sensitive Content" option should be turned on.

That's it! You'll no longer see any suggested posts in your feed.

Suggestions of things to post in your story

When it comes to Instagram, one thing is for sure: you control your content. So, if you're not a fan of the suggested posts in your story, you can quickly turn them off. Here's how:

Click on your profile and press the three lines in the upper right corner.

Scroll down and tap 'Settings.'

Tap 'Privacy and security.'

Under the 'Interactions' section, toggle off the 'Show story ring around new posts' option.

And that's it! Viewing your friends' stories, you'll no longer see those pesky suggested posts.
